DOMINO STORAGE BY ISAY WEINFELD

Architect Isay Weinfeld is responsible for the elegantly minimalistic designs of boutiques, hotels, restaurants and homes throughout São Paulo and Rio de Janeiro. His furniture design is clean and angular and echoes the forms of 1950s Brazilian design. Born in São Paulo, he graduated from the School of Architecture at Mackenzie University, where he later was professor of Theory of Architecture. The recipient of multiple awards throughout his career, Weinfeld has been featured in publications in Brazil and abroad, including in three separate volumes dedicated to his work.

Interiors of Domino Storage cabinets are finished in quarter-cut natural ash when specified in any of three specialty wood finishes: Ebony, Morado and Walnut. Interiors of units produced in Geiger's standard veneer finishes match the exterior finish. Drawer boxes and waste bins for all units are quarter-cut natural ash with a hand-rubbed, tung-oil finish.

MIXED STORAGE AND SHELF STORAGE IN TWO HEIGHTS AND THREE WIDTHS

Right-sized storage is the concept for Domino Storage, a cabinetry system designed around a smartly edited array of rectangular modules. Like the rotated tiles in the game of dominoes, quarter-turned wood fronts add playful and lively character. Domino Storage is offered in two heights (26 and 40 inches) and three widths (59, 89 and 118 inches). At each height are six versions, three with mixed storage that combines file drawers with smaller compartments to house office components and a waste bin, and three with shelf storage, a series of shelving units covered by single-door fronts.
